

Drums Along The Hudson

May 22
2011

Students and Principal Susan Green of P.S.208 and visitors at the opening ceremonies

Tom Porter and The Mohawk Singers & Dancers lead procession to the opening of Drums Along the Hudson after a blessing ceremony for a new childrens playground.

Sandra Bookman and Tom Porter open the 2011 Drums Along the Hudson

Tree Planting Procession and Ceremony in honor of Jake Swamp, Founder of the Tree of Peace Society

Tetiana Anderson (NY1 Reporter) announcing the entertainers

The Snow Lion Tibetan Music & Dance Troupe

Drums Along The Hudson May 22 2011

HONOREE PRESENTATION
(from left to right)
 Sandra Bookman (WABC-TC News Anchor)
 Honoree Elizabeth Jordan
(International Photographer/Philanthropist)
 Kamala Cesar (Lotus Music & Dance Artistic Director)
 Carl Nelson (Drums Producer)
 Jennifer Hoppa (North Manhattan Parks Administrator)
 Tom Porter (Mohawk Elder)

Brazilian and Native American Dances by the Students of Alain L. Locke Elementary School (P.S.208)

Captain Planet and Parrots for Peace were on hand once again.

Lots of Good Information at the Environmental Tent

The Green Mountain Booth promoting Green Energy!

Nitchen providing Native American stories and crafts.

Louis Mofsie
(Director of the Thunderbird American Indian Dancers)

Lots of cool vendors were there, such as this wooden flute maker.

Romanee & Company and Danza España blend Kathak and Flamenco dance forms (more on next page)

Drums Along The Hudson

May 22
2011

Danza
España
musicians

Romane Kalicharran

Romane & Company musicians

Yloy Ybarra and Sol "La Argentinita"
of Danza España

The Lower East Side Girls Club
dances Flamenco

Elizabeth Jordan leads the Honor Dance at the Pow-Wow

Pow-Wow

Silvercloud and Heyna Second Sons lead the drumming and singing

Drums visitors get to be participants at the Pow-Wow Community Dance

The Hoop Dance is a Pow-Wow favorite

As is our tradition,
DAH 2011 closes with everyone participating in the Unity Stomp

